Good morning!

Good morning!

Good morning!

Good morning!

To you, and you and you
and you

(Song from the movie “Singing in the Rain”)

If your class is in the afternoon, change the lyrics.

Good afternoon!

Good afternoon!

Good afternoon!

Good afternoon!

To you, and you and you
and you

What was the first song you learned in English?

“Goodbye Yellow Brick Road”

When are you gonna come down?

When are you going to land?

I should have stayed on the farm

I should have listened to my old man

Watch this scene from “Glee”

Season 3 – Episode 12
“The Spanish Teacher”

(I can't include the video, but you can find it easily in the episode. It's the scene where they mention songs can help students learn languages better.)

Anice Paterson and Jane Willis in English Through Music

“Songs and language work well together. Singing is a great way to learn and memorize words and expressions and to get familiar with the sounds and structure of the language.”

“Songs and music in general have the ability to affect our emotions. Many people can be moved by tears or other strong emotion by music, and songs can acquire strong emotional association with people, events and places.”

Dale T. Griffiee in Songs in Action

Sophie reads her mother's diary to her friends.

In the diary, her mother writes about her relationships.

Honey, honey, how he thrills me, uh, uh

Honey, honey

Honey, honey, nearly kills me, uh, uh

Honey, honey

I heard about him before

I wanted to know some more

And now I know what they mean

He's a love machine

How he makes me dizzy

Image Sophie is reading her father's diary.
He's writing about his girlfriend.

What would the song be like?

Honey, honey, how she thrills me, uh, uh

Honey, honey

Honey, honey, nearly kills me, uh, uh

Honey, honey

I heard about her before

I wanted to know some more

And now I know what they mean

She's a love machine

How she makes me dizzy

Imagine Sophie's mother wrote about her three boyfriends at the same time.

Honey, honey, how they thrill me, uh, uh

Honey, honey

Honey, honey, nearly kill me, uh, uh

Honey, honey

I heard about them before

I wanted to know some more

And now I know what they mean

They're love machines

How they make me dizzy

Imagine Sophie is thinking about her boyfriend. She imagines she's talking to him.

Honey, honey, how you thrill me, uh, uh

Honey, honey

Honey, honey, nearly kill me, uh, uh

Honey, honey

I heard about you before

I wanted to know some more

And now I know what they mean

You're a love machine

How you make me dizzy

Now imagine Sophie thinks she's super hot. She thinks she drives men crazy.

She sings about herself and the effect she has on men.

Honey, honey, how I thrill you, uh, uh

Honey, honey

Honey, honey, nearly kill you, uh, uh

Honey, honey

You heard about me before

You wanted to know some more

And now you know what they mean

I'm a love machine

How I make you dizzy

Life is a mystery, everyone must stand alone

I hear you call my name

And it feels like home

When you call my name it's like a little prayer

I'm down on my knees,

I wanna take you there

In the midnight hour I can feel your power

Just like a prayer you know I'll take you there

I hear your voice, it's like an angel sighing

I have no choice, I hear your voice

Feels like flying

I close my eyes, oh God I think I'm falling

Out of the sky, I close my eyes

Heaven help me

Imagine this story took place in the past!
